1. As of 25 January 1955 the Soviet DDSG had received no orders for bauxite shipments from Budapest to the USSR or quotas for such shipments.

2. The Soviet DDSG also received no quota for kerosene shipments from Vienna-Lobau to Reni, USSR, during January 1955. The only petroleum product scheduled for shipment to the USSR was crude oil of which one 5,000 tons shipment was split between the Hungarian and Rumanian Danube shipping companies, Mahart and Navrom.²

1. Comment: Moscow normally gives several weeks advance notice. The delay could be caused by a shortage of bauxite ore or by failure to get the 1955 plan approved.

2. Comment: no kerosene shipments were handled by the DDSG in September, October and December 1954.
